what I want

I want to do things that make a difference in people's lives—in big and small ways. And if I can do that using my creativity, that would be awesome.

I am looking for project-based work that allows me to grow creatively—particularly new things outside of publication design and art direction (my background).

I'd love to work collaboratively with other creative people and be challenged by new and interesting projects.

happy clients

Sutton is that rare designer who has a great eye and is also a joy to work with.

—Stephanie & Jonathan Fields, Good Life Project

I'm astounded by Sutton's magical ability to take a few words of direction and translate them into a cohesive visual story.

—Melissa Suzuno, AfterCollege

what I love

- The arts—all of them: painting, photography, interior design, fashion, dance, music, movies, street art, illustration
- Books & magazines
- Libraries & literacy
- Empowering women & girls
- Social justice
- Pop culture
- Nature
- San Francisco
- Travel
- Kids
- Things that are playful
- Dogs (also other animals, but mostly dogs :)

some of my strongest skills

- Left- and right-brain work (ie, I am both organized and creative)
- Spatial visualization
- Collaboration
- Communication
- Meeting deadlines
- Photography/photo editing
- Publication art direction & design things I'd love to work on

- Design for television or movies, like fictional products, other printed props, or movie posters
- Theater set construction
- Mural painting
- Writing a children's book
- Catalog design & production (for the art world or retail)
- ???—this is where I need help—what am I not imagining?

areas I'm not interested in

- Tech
- Finance
- Design specifically for marketing or sales
- UX/UI design
- PowerPoint
